Important to Note/Univariety Recommendation

- Based on the average of class 10, class 11 and expected percentage in class 12 we have shortlisted the colleges under the aspiration and the best fit categories for you.
- The college rankings are as per the 2011 statistics of India today web portal.
- Since you have not mentioned the specialization that you wanted to opt in Engineering, we suggest you to go through the attached document to get better understanding about the various courses that are available in Engineering and their future prospects.
- JEE-Advance and JEE- Main are the proposed Single National level entrance tests to be conducted from the year 2013 for all students who seek admissions into central engineering institutions i.e. IITs, NITs, IIITs.
- According to the new exam pattern JEE is conducted in two parts. JEE -Main and JEE – Advance. Also, 40% weightage will be given for class 12 marks unlike previous years when the admission was only based on the entrance test results.
- We recommend you to aim for nothing less than 80-85% to get admission in the top colleges listed above. Your performance in the science subjects will play a critical role.
- Do not worry about the details for the entrance tests mentioned above as we will guide you thoroughly on these during our 3rd workshop very soon.
