

Dear Participants,

It gives me immense pleasure to know that you have enrolled for the Climber programme offering different modules in order to expand your skillset and life learnings. This is one of those times wherein the world is engaged in multiple issues which are a major concern for the future generations. Be it environmental protection, human rights violation, international security, unemployment or food security, the world has never been more threatened. The regional differences and a lack of consensus among the international community have further stimulated the issues to a large extent.

United Nations, from the very inception has been a catalyst of advocating change wherein hopes have been lost and efforts have failed. As an institution, UN has facilitated enormous results in some of the extremely marginalized regions and communities around the world. Children and Youth group makes up around 35% of the world population and has emerged as one of the most important stakeholder in solving the issues of global concern. The group has started realizing the opportunities and the need for their increased involvement. For the same, the institutions along with the support from all the member nations have come up to a consensus and have adopted 17 developmental goals, commonly known as United Nations Sustainable Development Goals (UN SDGs).

UN SDGs shall form the very backbone of all the future developmental processes and will constantly measure the progress of efforts mapped with achieving targets linked with individual goals. This will ensure a higher accountability in the member nations and an increased engagement from citizens across the globe. This process will give an increased opportunity to individuals for contributing in developmental issues and the individual work shall be highlighted by the international community. For the same, I will be constantly working with Team Climber and follow your progress in the module completion wherein you shall be given an opportunity to integrate and present work related to SDGs. At the same time, we will highlight some of the best works on diverse international platforms.

With this, I wish you a very good luck with your entire journey associated with Climber and look forward to receiving your works aligned to the UN Sustainable Development Goals. Also, I will be more than glad to be connected with each one of you.

Best,

Varun Jhaveri

Chair to Youth Council of UNESCO GAMAG

@Varun_Jhaveri

The United Nations sustainable development solutions network identified our mentoring initiative: MyCaptain amongst the top 50 youth led projects that aim to solve the world's toughest issues.

Climber Knowledge and Careers Private Limited

An NSRCEL

IIM Bangalore

incubated company.