

Letter Of Recommendation

Writing recommendation for Abhishek Singh is an exercise that I am feeling proud to be privileged to do. I taught Abhishek chemistry for two years at _____ School and learnt a great deal about him, both on a personal and educational level.

Abhishek is a uniquely gifted child with a capacity to turn any amount of odds in his favor. This gives him an edge over his friends and makes him a popular and much sought-after student. During the time I saved him as his Chemistry teacher, I knew very well about his caliber as a student of science of which chemistry is an indispensable part. I also learnt a great deal about his positive qualities, of which his dedication and inquisitiveness stand out most prominently.

Through his constant questionnaire about various aspects of chemistry, Abhishek made it an easy, tractable subject, and also infused great amount of interest and fun in it. The two most important practical that Abhishek conducted under me were those dealing with Anion-Cation and hydrocarbons. Abhishek conducted his entire practical to my utmost satisfaction. He also showed his leadership qualities in managing his friends for this assignment. His ability strike perfect rapport with his friends is also praiseworthy.

Abhishek has many qualities in him that always put him on a separate pedestal. He always hogged the limelight by proving himself as the most disciplined and industrious student in the class. He never backed from performing tasks that seemed on the face of it to be hard and intractable. Also, as a group-leader for several class-assignments, Abhishek proved his leadership qualities.

Personally, Abhishek is a very accommodating child. He is industrious, no doubt, but also considering and clam. During class-times, he maintained the gravity of a disciplined, focused child.

Abhishek has a sharp analytical mind. He completed his task on time and also helped his friends in solving mathematical problems. I have always known Abhishek as a highly ambitions boy who was never satisfied with simple achievements and always worked progressively towards a brighter future.

I can confidently say that Abhishek will be successful in leaving his mark in whatever he pursues. My best wishes are always with him.

Savita Banerjee

Chemistry Teacher