Education

Sangam School of Excellence, Bhilwara, Rajasthan – International Baccalaureate Diploma Programme, 2019

Duties:

House Captain: School Council (2017-2018)

Supporting the housemistresses and Senior Leadership Team in promoting and representing the school and house. Promoting the calibre students have and showcasing them in the events. Collaboration and coordination skills to be incorporated when working with a team.

Students' Editorial Board: School's Yearbook (2017-2018)

I was being selected for the School yearly magazine's Students' Editorial Board where we had worked rigorously, coordinating with the teachers as well as having the team spirit because working in a team of diversified students is always a challenging job as we were to utilise our skills, whether language or managerial abilities, we were to be efficient and complete the task within a deadline. This has trained us in becoming punctual, coordinating, working extra and enhanced language as it was a learning programme for us where I had come across various new things I got familiar with.

Volunteer, Sangam Fest - August 2017

Sangam Fest is an inter-collegiate cultural fest organised by Sangam School of Excellence every year hosting the most prominent schools in India. I was being recruited as a Volunteer for the 2-day festival, and escorted School Principal, helping her in her duties, and being with her to get a glance at how she does rigorous administration over every little detail within her team of teachers and students.

Volunteer, National Educator's Summit, Bhilwara - September 9, 2017

National Educator's Summit hosted school principals from the renowned school in the region discussing reading and its importance in the life. The Summit was held in association with The National Trust, and Government of India. As a volunteer, we were to handle the on-ground operations of the Summit and help the team to conduct the conference smoothly.

Experiences

Co-founder & Secretary-General, Bhilwara Model United Nations 2018

I co-founded the Bhilwara Model UN Conference and served as the Secretary-General for the first edition. The aim of this Model UN simulation was to make the youth of the city aware of what international relations are, how important are they and also introduce them to the 17 SDGs. True to the spirit of International Relations, It is the time that a Model UN Conference is being organised in the city cater to the needs of ever dynamic and growing youth of the age. We strived to bring our delegates an intellectually enriching, culturally engaging, and personally enthralling experience through a unique platform in the heart of the Textile Capital of North India.

Intern, Goodwall – November 2017 - February 2018

Goodwall is a social media platform for high-school students to connect with students, universities, different opportunities around the globe and also offer scholarships to the extraordinary students. I am on the team of Goodwall's Ambassador management team where I've been given the responsibilities to communicate with Goodwall Ambassadors. Also, I've been looked for platforms connect Goodwall with different cultural events and promote it in India as we have partnered in two of my projects, already. I also have been given tasks to look for platforms where Goodwall can be marketed under which I've learnt key skills related to Sales and Marketing and Business development.

Editor & Author, FossBeta – November 2017 - Present

FossBeta is an Online News/Media Company, now verified by Google News. As an Author, I blog about the various aspects of different economics, firms, industries, businesses, cryptocurrencies etc. and showcase the analytical skills I've gained during the classroom learning process. As an Editor, I have been given the authority to edit any of the articles published by different authors, edit the website, work on SEO and also, look upon the Digital Marketing of FossBeta, mainly on the social media websites. Also, I've been the additional charge to hire interns for the firm, as to increase the variable inputs so that we may gain productivity and efficiency.

TED-Ed Club Facilitator, Sangam School's TED-Ed Club – July 2017 - July 2018

TED had launched TED-Ed Clubs for high schools where I applied to launch a TED-Ed Club in my school where different students are being chosen to generate ideas that are worth sharing. TED-Ed Clubs is a platform for high-schoolers to showcase their ideas which are worth sharing. I had initiated this club process, as I believe every student has a spark and to get the best outcomes from a student, we'll have to utilise a process that is to develop their brains as it supports students to discuss, discover, explore and share their big ideas in the form of TED-style talks.

Member, Youth Campus (NGO) - November 2017 - January 2018

Youth Campus is a non-government organisation which works in the rural areas of India with the rural kids, and authorities to aware the citizens and children about education and its importance in their lives whether in present or future. We aim at different villages for a certain period of time, visit the villages with the team on the weekends and collect the children to teach them certain manners aside education too. We also initiate sports activities and set up a library in their local school asking each child to read one book in a month. This has a lot of influential skills incorporated as convincing the authorities as well as children's parents is indeed a tough job.

Curator, TEDxYouth@SangamSchool – September 2017 - December 2017

TED and TEDx have always been an intriguing and intellectual platform to showcase the ideas worth spreading. Curation is one of the integral parts of any events, especially TEDx events. After a hefty nomination process for speakers, I had to choose the best nine speakers from over the country eliminating around 80 nominations. The challenge was to curate those very nine speakers and get their ideas framed the way TED expects it to be. I was in-charge for selecting the speakers and also selecting and articulating ideas in a well-presented manner. Along with that, I also handled the conference's communication, talking to the potential sponsors, guests etc. It has been a keen teaching in terms of punctuality and marketing as well as communications.

Social Media Marketing Intern, Tredily – September 2017 - October 2017

I, as an Intern, was working with the core team, when the firm was in the initial stages of the business and promoting Tredily on Social media I, as an intern, was expected to perform. This venture is based on the online platform thus, Social Media, SEO and content writing do play an important role in promoting these businesses and expanding the potential customer base through Social Media Marketing campaigns.

Director General, Sangam School of Excellence Model United Nations – August 2017 - November 2017

MUN teaches participants researching, public speaking, debating, and writing skills, in addition to critical thinking, teamwork, and leadership abilities. Here, I applied the classroom knowledge of Marketing, Finance, and Administration within a firm to a conference as we had to promote it to different schools as well as different platforms, including internet. I handled the Finance Department for the conference and eventually, the project turned out to be in profit because of the efficiency and control over expenses. The administration took a lot of time as I had to manage the whole secretariat, the organising committee beforehand and pass them the instructions. I trusted in the democratic leadership style to handle the team and get the best out of themselves.

Campus Ambassador, Timeout72 – November 2017 - December 2017

Timeout 72 is a 3-day long multi-genre music fiesta. Being a Campus Ambassador, I was in-charge on the on-ground promotions in my school premises where I had to make people aware of the event happening in India. It exposed me to the real phase of marketing, that is conveying and convincing or influencing people to take an interest in what we say. Also, it has helped me gain practical skill and approaches of understanding Marketing closely, as to how location affects the event, the price and the dates too. The internship was purely based on social engagement and marketing skills which subtly improved.

Summer Intern, B.L. Chordia & Company – April 2017 - July 2017

In the Summer Vacations, 2017, I worked at one of the Chartered Accountant's office, under the International Department handling the Directorate General of Foreign Trade (DGFT) section working to get Import and Export Licenses (IEC Codes) for various businesses will to expand their operations. Also, the upcoming indirect tax regime, GST, had involved me in registering and transferring various firms/businesses from the Old tax regime to GST and enrol for new registrations too, explaining clients about how GST functions. This helped me enhance my learning experience my understanding the nuances of real-life complexities and dynamics and integrate the classroom learning to the real life.

Projects

Sangam School of Excellence Model United Nations - November 2017

Sangam School of Excellence Model United Nations was a three-day conference which is an educational simulation and/or academic activity in which students can learn about diplomacy, international relations, and the United Nations. Our conference hosted 130 delegates and 10 Executive Board Members from all over the country for simulating 5 different committees.

TEDxYouth@SangamSchool - December 2017

TEDx has always been the most prominent way for the ideas that are worth sharing. After the meticulous application process, we had got the license and scheduled the event to the nearest possible date, having the key drawback of not getting much time. However, after devoting much of our time to the event, we could get the well-renowned 9 speakers from across the country, India, and made it possible to embark our names in the history of Sangam School of Excellence to have an indelible and intellectual event hosted. We worked on our administration, communication, marketing and event management skills to attain success.

Founder, The Commerce Insider (Blog) - (www.commerceinsight.wordpress.com)

This blog focuses to share information about the hustle-bustle in the economies around the globe, start-ups, and top ventures, mainly. This blog aims at Economics, current affairs, business strategies, entrepreneurial stories, successful start-ups etc. The articles will have a gist of analysing different decisions taken by governments, corporates, multinationals, business ventures. Founder, Explore The World (Blog) - May 2015 (www.vaibhavjainvj.blogspot.in)

This blog acted like a spark for me to write about life, world, sustainability, and reflect my opinions towards various global affairs as well as issues related to life, and my solutions to those very problems. This blog is where I do not write in a particular genre and it is a personal blog to me to write about various perspectives surrounding me and the world.

Bhilwara Model United Nations - June 2018

Bhilwara Model United Nations is the first independently curated MUN in Bhilwara and third in line to the order of MUNs which have been organised earlier. We at BMUN along with our partnership with United Youth Circuit and United Nations Organisation strived to give participants a magnificent experience of munning, packed with opulent socials, dynamic agendas, keynote speeches by luminaries and prizes for the delegates who prove themselves out of the crowd.

Trainings

The Online Marketing Fundamentals, Google - March 2017 - Present

As the digital marketing landscape continues to grow at a rapid pace, marketers are faced with new challenges and opportunities within this digital age. The Digital Marketing Course is an initiative designed to educate students and professors in the area of Digital Marketing. I opted to get this training as I have always been keen to learn as to how Online Marketing works and Marketing has always been a key ingredient in any firm's administration and due to the world favouring technology, Online Marketing is on hike in the world as businesses choose to market their services and products online due to the rising online presence of most of their potential consumers.
