

Sensory Preferences

You learn with four senses. You may like to learn with only one or two, but research has shown that you benefit most when learning through multiple sensory modes. So it will help to use more than just your preferred senses.

Environmental Preferences

These are simple preferences that don't require further development. For these, simply adjust your learning environment, when reasonable, to suit your strongest preferences.

Mindset Preferences

These preferences indicate your attitude toward learning and working, and how you function best. Mindset includes motivation, focus, how you complete tasks and how you work with others. For some of these preferences, developing your mindset toward one side of the scale is beneficial. For others, developing both sides of the scale is more helpful.
