Consolidated Progress

Class Teacher Remarks

Remark by Ms. Anu Thampan : Krish is a considerate and soft spoken boy. He succeeds at whatever task he puts his mind to. He is not only confident, engaged and innovative in his studies and overall development but also reflective towards his participation and progress. He is respectful towards his classmates and is very well-liked. He is on task regardless of the activity- a trait of good sports person! With immense potential buttoned up, he needs to open up to explore and accomplish his full aptitude.

English :

Krish is a positive participant in all the activities. He shows good understanding of the questions being asked and actively contributes to the discussion. He is a confident and secure learner who is unwilling to take things for granted and ready to take intellectual risks. He is keen to explore and evaluate ideas and arguments in a structured, critical and analytical way. He is able to communicate and defend his views and opinions. Krish is alive with curiosity, embodies a spirit of enquiry and wants to dig more deeply into ideas. He is keen to learn new skills and applies them creatively in all that he undertakes. All the Best!

Mathematics :

Krish demonstrates the ability to understand various Mathematical concepts easily. He rarely consults the teacher and enjoys tackling the challenges on his own. He is good at interpreting and analyzing problems and very swift at mental calculations. He can confidently apply his knowledge to solve different types of problems. He is an amazing student, and he truly shines!

Physics :

Krish is an extremely able and enthusiastic member of the group who takes a keen interest in Physics and appears to enjoy all aspects of the work. He completes the assignments well in time and the academic performance clearly indicates his sincerity towards studies. He actively took part in online classroom activities. He needs to pay more attention while answering the questions to avoid mistakes while expressing his views.

Chemistry :

Krish is a polite and confident child. He has the ability to explore, make predictions and evaluate findings. Throughout the academic year he has shown consistency in the efforts he has put in towards the subject. He has submitted all the work on time. His note taking habit is commendable. He is capable of applying the principles in the practical of chemistry however he gets disappointed often with setbacks. I wish him well in all his future endeavors.

Computer Science :

Krish has worked with interest on all the topics covered this year and has contributed with confidence to class. He has made good progress this year and has demonstrated a good understanding of the software used so far, and this was clearly demonstrated in the Pseudocode and Python assessment. I have been very pleased with Krish's focused approach to independent research and his willingness to contribute ideas. He has gained a range of new skills and has shown competence in his use of Python software. He was successful in understanding the various functions of Operating System, Computer Architecture and Pseudocodes. However, he would benefit greatly from reading the textbook consistently and working on the practicals regularly to keep his skills in CS strong.

Environmental Management :

Krish enjoys to work in all areas of Environment and has responded well to tasks set. He is good at linking events and manages to complete all the activities independently. He has shown exceptional skills while he was working on sustainability project. He is clear with the concepts and is self-motivated. He doesn't restrict his knowledge and has a great quench for new learning. Keep it up!

French :

Krish is an enthusiastic learner. He can answer the questions fluently. He can articulate while reading and writing a variety of short and simple texts and precisely uses various reading strategies to comprehend the meaning and intent of French texts and expressions. He has no difficulty with listening tasks at this level, and he has sharpened his skills with every lesson. In terms of grammar, he performs impressively. He took great care of his homework and was a lively participant in various activities with other students. Krish is an ideal student offering intelligent, reasoned responses to class discussions and always presents his written work in an organized manner. Excellent!
