Class Teacher Remarks

Remark by Ms. Anu Thampan : Anay is courteous and shows good manners both inside and outside the classroom. He has evolved nicely this year, both academically and socially. He is becoming more self-reliant during independent work periods. He is a responsible and considerate classmate. With immense potential to score well, he needs to assert his faith in his calibre to unwrap the aptitude.

English :

Anay is a positive participant in all the activities. He shows good understanding of the questions being asked and actively contributes to the discussion. He is a confident and secure learner who is unwilling to take things for granted and is ready to take intellectual risks. He is keen to explore and evaluate ideas and arguments in a structured, critical and analytical way. He is able to communicate and defend his views and opinions. Anay is alive with curiosity, embodies a spirit of enquiry and wants to dig more deeply into ideas. He is keen to learn new skills and applies them creatively in all that he undertakes. All the Best!

Mathematics :

Anay has a passion for Mathematics which reflects in all the assignments and homework given. He is an enthusiastic learner, responsible and self-motivated at the same time. He demonstrates a thorough understanding of all math concepts and communicates with considerable clarity and justification of reasoning. He is able to perform complex mathematical steps with accuracy. With a little extra effort, he can achieve excellence in the subject.

Physics :

Anay is a thoughtful and inquisitive person. He has a serious attitude towards his studies and works very hard to improve himself. He raises questions and discussions whenever in doubt. Proper past paper practice can help him to score well in his exams.

Chemistry :

Anay is a polite and confident child. He has the ability to explore, make predictions and evaluate findings. Throughout the academic year he has shown consistency in the efforts he has put in towards the subject. He has submitted all the assigned work on time. His note taking habit is commendable. He is capable of applying the principles in the practical of chemistry however he gets disappointed with setbacks. I wish him well in all his future endeavors.

Computer Science :

Anay has worked with interest on all the topics covered this year and has contributed with confidence to class. Anay has made good progress this year and has demonstrated a good understanding of the software used so far, and this was clearly demonstrated in the Pseudocode and Python assessment. I have been very pleased with Anay's focused approach to independent research and his willingness to contribute ideas. He has gained a range of new skills and has shown competence in his use of Python software. He was successful in understanding the various functions of Operating System, Computer Architecture and Pseudocodes. However, he would benefit greatly from reading the textbook consistently and working on the practicals regularly to keep his skills in CS strong.

Environmental Management :

Anay has a pleasant temperament. He enjoys working on all areas of environment and has responded well to tasks set. He is good at linking events and manages to complete all the activities both independently and with his peers. He has shown exceptional skills while he was working on the sustainability project. He is clear with the concepts and is self-motivated. He doesn't restrict his knowledge and has a great thirst for new learning. Keep it up!

French :

Anay is an enthusiastic learner who seeks new challenges. He responds to the questions with fluency and good pronunciation. He excels to present all classroom assignments, tasks, and group work in an organized manner. He can understand the meaning and intent of French text and expressions with ease. He is able to comprehend the text applying various reading strategies. He is articulate when reading and writing a variety of short and simple texts. He has no difficulty with listening tasks at this level and he has sharpened his skills with every lesson. He has learnt many new words while reading texts. He took great care of his homework. He looks for new ways to participate in various activities with other students and strives to reach full potential. Bien fait. C'est excellent, Anay!
