Frequent unit tests and comprehensive tests ensure that the student goes through the material time and again. Tests are conducted every month. There will be periodic online tests as well. These help the student master the subject matter and address the questions from different perspectives. The objective is to facilitate revision of the study material often and help the student acquire performance capability through right deployment of domain knowledge and behaviour. Moreover, doing well in each of these frequent tests prepares a student for handling examination pressures, apart from building a competitive spirit and more importantly, the winning habit.

Mentoring

As always, BASE faculty's mentoring and personal guidance will be the difference that will motivate the students and mentally keep them agile for the bigger tests ahead.
